Thespians excel

Both first and second year drama students experienced their first dramatic tournament at Brophy Prep Saturday, May 9th. Twelve students competed in the various events. Kim Kramer, Gail Wilson, Therese Griffin, Rana Hunter, Bernice Tewksbury, Maude Medlin, Elaine Bosse, Cheryl Hites, Tamara Leabetter, Kim Jarrett, Peggy Varney, and Dwight Corriveau represented GHS's dramatics department.

Preliminary competition lasted until noon and finals were held the second half of the day. Dwight Corriveau was the only delegate from Globe to be placed in the finals. He received a Superior award in Oral Interpretation for his work in the cutting of "The Crucible". Three Excellent certificates came back to GHS for Kim Kramer and Rana Hunter's "Antigone," Peggy Varney's selection in Serious Prose, and for Bernice Tewksbury's selection of "Birthday Present."

Although this was Globe's first experience at such a tournament, Mrs. Wilson feels her students excelled in their efforts. She chalked this one up for experience but plans to enter similar tournaments all over the state next school year.
